We must retrace the fatal step of destroying half of the lawful money of the country. This is reason, this is philosophy. Unless we reinstate silver as lawful money, wheat will fall back to half price again, as soon as the present reasely subsides and asserthing class scarcity subsides, and everything else but gold will remain down and go low-er and lower. The only redemption money, gold, will go up, until the money barons of the old world can handle and
